P. R. MILNES

The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the management; in fact, many times they do not.

We stand up on our hind legs and howl our heads off over the imposition of a three-cent sale tax on the dollar, thinking we are badly abused, yet I'll bet all the nuts in Brazil that Californians, or at least the great majority of them are unaware that they are paying over 90 taxes, not including the various license fees imposed on those who have an idea they want to fall into that designation known as "business men."

A FUNNY ONE

The greatest joke ever perpetrated is the one I hear daily to the effect that "I do not pay any taxes." Is that so? Perhaps you do not dip into your pocket for any direct levy, but as sure as shooting, you are a contributor, and don't fool yourself.

THEIR CONSOLATION

With our increasing demands for a lot of things in government that are not necessary, it becomes incumbent upon tax-paying bodies to discover new sources of revenue to meet the bill, and be it said, they have done a very thorough job of it. If anything has been overlooked, thus far, you may have the doubtful consolation that before long it will be.

159th Regiment Of Infantry To Hold Re-Union

The days of Camp Kearney and France will be "re-fought" when veterans of the 159th Infantry hold their annual reunion at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley today.

The reunion services will start at three o'clock this afternoon and will be concluded late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

A large number of Richmond veterans, who served with the old Fifth or Ninth California Infantry, of the California National Guard before it was re-organized in 1917, will attend the reunion. One company of the regiment was formerly stationed in Richmond and a number of local men saw service with the organization on the Mexican border and in France.

General David P. Barrows, former colonel of the 159th following the World War, will be an honored guest.

A SEVERE wind and cold storm lashed the Pacific Northwest Coast, took one life and did damage to the extent of thousands of dollars. Here is Alki Point, near Seattle, Wash., which was one of the hardest hit of any Seattle locality.

Quake Victims Of Helena Are Given Relief

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 1.—UP—While relief officials would never wish to cause or encourage, residents of Montana's quake-torn capital city tonight took stock of their losses and voiced a fervent prayer that the damaging earth movement were over.

Red Cross, State and Federal officials announced that while their registrations for and were increasing hourly, they had completed arrangements for caring for all who might need aid.

"Everything seems to be under control but the quakes," one official told the United Press. "The fear that there might be another major shock at any minute really has had a more damaging effect than the physical damage suffered."

Thirteen Saved From Dynamite Lighter In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—UP—Thirteen men were removed safely by the Coast Guard Cutter Shoshone from a tossing, dynamite-filled lighter on San Francisco Bay tonight.

The men were transferred without injury, Coast Guard authorities said.

The lighter, carrying 1,200 cases of dynamite, broke away from the Grace Line freighter Condor early tonight, as rain and gale-force winds swept over the bay.

Distress signals immediately were sent from the lighter and the freighter. The Shoshone and the Coast Guard Cutter Babcock were dispatched to the rescue. A San Francisco police boat also was ordered to aid the storm-tossed men.

For a time it appeared that the light craft would be swamped in the running waves and buffeting winds, which reached velocities of 40 to 50 miles an hour.

The Shoshone succeeded, however, in putting out a line to the lighter and the men, all stevedores who have been engaged in transferring the dynamite to the Condor were brought to safety.

Rain Storm Damages Crops

LOCALS AND BERKELEY TO MEET FRIDAY

A perfect football record for the year was more or less marred for the Richmond football team yesterday when the Oilers were held to a 0-0 tie at Alameda.

The game, played in a mud lake on Neptune park, was the seventh of the season for the Oilers who have won six games in a row. Next week they will meet the Berkeley team for the championship of the OAL. Yesterday Piedmont was trounced by Berkeley by a 14-0 score. Richmond won from Piedmont last week by two game scores.

For the first time in many years the Oilers found themselves playing in a heavy rain storm on a mud field which was converted into a slough before the first quarter of the game was played.

Richmond kicked off to Alameda and the Alameda team started a march down the field that netted three first downs in a row. Then Richmond stiffened its defense and from that point on the ball was kept in Alameda territory.

LIBBY GETS HUGE SHARE OF ESTATE

RICHMOND, N. C., Nov. 1.—UP—Libby Holman, Reynolds, former Broadway touch, actor, and two-year-old son, today were awarded a share of $2,000,000 of the vast estate left by her father, Fred and Zachary Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir.

A decision of the North Carolina Supreme Court affirming the judgment of a lower court and finally determined status of the estate of the former millionaire player of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The decision of an awarded to wards of $2,000,000 to young Libby first child, Anne Cannon Reynolds II.

Suspended Fines Given Pair For Slot Machines

Suspended fine of $10 each yesterday against George C. Miller and Arthur J. Black, arrested last night by the Berkeley police, for possession of slot machines.

The court's way for leniency was given by a statement by Sheriff John A. Miller who said that it was partly his fault that the men were arrested on charges of possession of gambling devices. Miller stated that it is his custom to warn people at least once that the machines are illegal before a raid is made.

"However, at this time I was incensed by a party who came to my office claiming that the county is full of slot machines. There are no slot machines operating in this county, if I know it."

Spanish War Vets To Visit Alameda Camp

Plans for a visit to Alameda Camp on Tuesday evening were discussed last night when Admiral Dewey Camp of United States Spanish War Veterans met at the Memorial hall.

Jack Bodin, the commander presided over the business session of the organization.

At the conclusion of the session the members of the Camp joined with members of the Auxiliary to hear a program presented by Frank Rose, the original one-man band and Carl Ashby, violinist. Both are from San Jose.

Clark C. Kratzer, arranged the program. A banquet followed.

French Peace Bid Is Turned Down By Italian Chiefs

ROME, Nov. 1.—UP—A new outbreak of anti-British hatred flared in the streets and in the controlled French press tonight after King Victor Emmanuel had broken his long silence to approve Premier Pierre Mussolini's war with Ethiopia.

Students, hating over with rage against Great Britain for leading international opposition to Italy's colonial ambitions, rained stones, bricks, and tear gas on a parade of being British.

The pro-British British, warning that no British war ships will be withdrawn from the Mediterranean, said a home newspaper, editor of Grande Italia and friend of King Victor Emmanuel, had said that no British war ships will be withdrawn from the Mediterranean.

ETHIOPIANS CHEERED BY WAR REPORT

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1.—UP—The capital was cheered tonight by news from the south of alleged failure of two units of Italy's mechanized attack—airplanes and tanks.

A telegram from Ras Desta Dintu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie and commander of a large force in Ogaden, recorded the second crash of an Italian bombing plane within five days. He said the ship crashed during bombardment along the Somaliland border, west of Dolo.

WITH THE ITALIAN NORTH-ERN ARMIES, via Asmara, Nov. 1.—UP—Long columns of motor trucks began moving up to the front tonight in a tense atmosphere, reminiscent of that a month ago just before the armies of General Emilio de Bono crossed the March.

KENNEL CLUB
WINTER MEET
TO END TONIGHT

This is the last meeting of the El Cerrito Kennel Club. Last night, the races were called off as the last prize of the operation of the club.

To top off the meeting, El Cerrito officials are offering probably the most interesting program.

Head of the races, King, the club's ninth race, second prize, a valuable option, a gold dog, a Golden Hoop, a gold medal and May Goe, a gold dog.

Johnny Green, wood has gathered together the smartest entries from the top kennels in each of the eleven events.

Challenge, a dress is slated to race in the tenth.

Lillian C. is a dog that has been overlooked by one and all in spite of winning three out of four races, will go to the post in the sixth race, getting hot competition from Dick Anderson, Comanche, Hero's Trojan, Jack Jones, Black Andrew, Bob Side, while Billy, a female, apparently unbeatable, will be in the eighth race.

The night of the meeting should be a successful one, considering the excellent entry, the triple option which is a streak to phenomenal heights on Saturday and the special treat promised fans after the races. A large crowd is anticipated tonight.

BALL STARS.
One of the outstanding features of the Richmond team's play was the stellar punting by Freddy Ball. Despite the fact that the oval was water-logged and "squirrely," Ball averaged almost 50 yards for each of his punts. These kicks kept the Richmond defense from starting to pinch.

Richmond made two desperate efforts to score once in the second quarter and again in the fourth, by the field goal route. Both times Jerome Wilson attempted the field goal, and each time the ball was too low.

Although disappointed by the outcome of the game, Richmond players declared that if the game had been played on a fair day, Richmond would have won by a large score.

Throughout the coming week, coaches Frank Ribbel, Phil Hume, and Archie Williams will drill their charges in preparation for the Berkeley game.

FOR UCLA 11

The battle of defeat was scheduled to mow down one branch of the University of California and elevate the other to conference overlord Saturday as the Bears of Berkeley and the Bruins of Westwood battle in Los Angeles Coliseum in the most significant grid battle of the season.

Two undefeated records and possibly a bid to the Rose Bowl will be at stake when Coach Stuh Allen's Bears battle with Southern California's newly adopted football darlings from U. C. L. A. today.

A victory for the Bruins will virtually clinch their claim to western supremacy inasmuch as their only remaining conference encounter is with Idaho.

A victory for the Bears will mean an auspicious beginning of a grueling assignment—to conquer Washington and Stanford, the other two formidable foes standing between California and its long-sought goal at Pasadena.

Meanwhile the Stanford Cardinals will tackle Santa Clara for the "mountain championship." Always a bitter contest, this should prove no exception with the Indians battling to fight their way back to the top bracket after their setback by U. C. L. A. and the Broncos fighting to maintain their hard-earned reputation of giant-killer gained in strenuous campaigns during recent years against major opponents.

Other major coast football interest centers in the Northwest, where Washington meets University of Montana, and Washington State opposes Gonzaga. Oregon State will tackle Portland University.

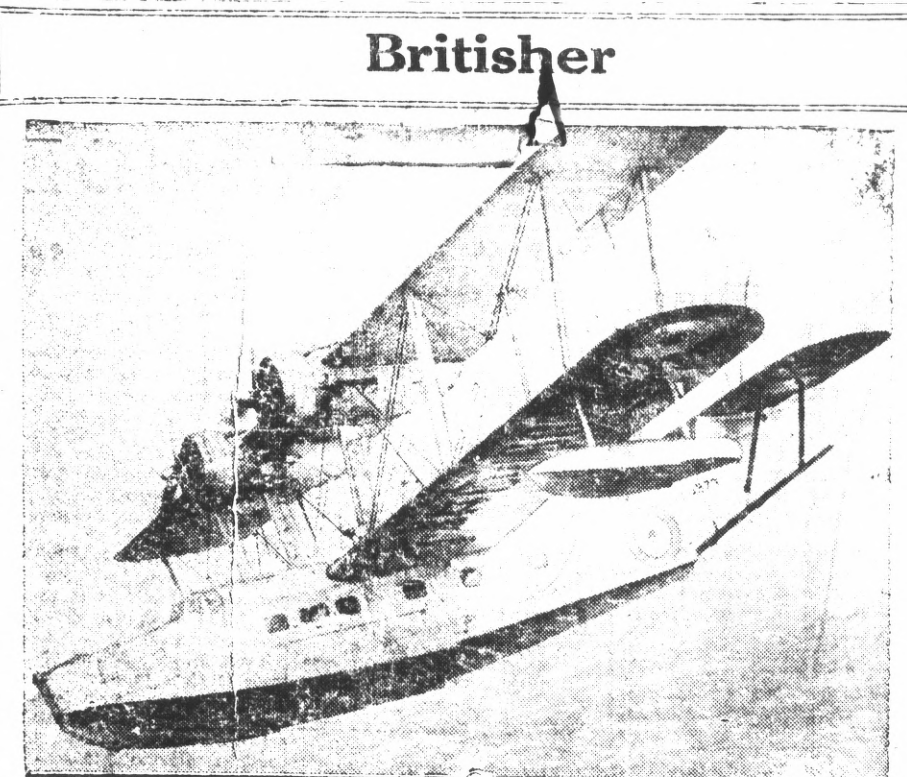

College of the Pacific faces Fresno State at Fresno, and Loyola is scheduled for a Sunday game with University of San Francisco in Kezar stadium, San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1, (AP)—Football equipment has been received at the San Francisco Presidio today. Today's announcement lent material strength to rumors which have been circulating for several weeks that the local Army post intends to put a football team back on the field. The West Coast Army team was discontinued three years ago. Athletics on the Presidio, under the direction of Col. J. J. Phillips and Maj. A. H. Cummings, have shown a recent tendency to return to their normal activity, officials reported.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — The new Republican House notes that the val conference to be held in London the subject of "intercontinental" peace don't next month is not particularly and certainly not in connection with the big naval conference in the spring of 1936.

Behind the scenes, some very friendly information, though informal, has been leaking out. The administration is planning to hold a conference in London next month to discuss the subject of "intercontinental" peace.

Probably it will be decided early, but American and British naval officers are all set for a big conference in London next month. The deal is being made around the British need for a large number of light cruisers, which we don't consider practicable, while we need some new battleships, which the British have not estimated.

Behind the scenes, some very friendly information, though informal, has been leaking out. The administration is planning to hold a conference in London next month to discuss the subject of "intercontinental" peace.

But in view of the Japanese demand for parties, American and British naval officers are all set for a big conference in London next month to discuss the subject of "intercontinental" peace.

And both sides are ready to serve an ultimatum to the Japanese that they will build two to one against them, unless the Japanese give up their claim to parity.

A formula for an alternative to the Triple A farm program is being written in the capital right under the nose of the New Deal.

Author is Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, dean of the Graduate School and professor of political science at American University.

Much mystery surrounds the sponsor of the undertaking. Inner Administration fears that Dr. Griffith is in one secret employ of the GOP to write the farm plank for their 1936 platform.

Asked about this charge, Griffith laughed, replied cryptically: "Wait and see."

17 States Are Terrorized By Big Earthquake

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—UP. An earthquake, the center of which was in Ontario, Canada, northwest of Ottawa, early today shook 17 states, later and other Canadian provinces, and Arizona, California, and portions, quake coming from the Pacific coast, about 100 miles.

Little damage was done and no one was seriously injured, but the vast extent of the tremors made the disturbance exceptional for its frequency in the Pacific coast region.

Most severe damage was reported from northern Ontario, where railroad tracks were reported torn up and houses cracked in multiple places in the La Tuque area. There was no reported loss of life or property.

The quake was felt in Quebec, where it was reported that the St. Lawrence river bridge was cracked. The quake was also felt in the United States, where it was reported that the Pacific coast region was shaken.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—UP. — takes more than a bustle and a hoop-skirt to make a Godefrida point out of a modern woman. takes, among other things, a modern undergar.

Josephine Hutchinson at the moment is wearing a long, full skirt, night bodice, and a lot of lace. She is the role of Mrs. Louis Pasteur, opposite Paul Muni in "Enigma of Man."

First she found how to stand. The part. Every period has its own style, and stance, she learned. We're today, for instance, walk with a deliberate slouch.

But posture was not enough. The correct general outline of the character is important. This is achieved by dressing from the waist outward," Miss Hutchinson explained.

Mrs. Pasteur wore heavy undergar, a corset, and several coats. To get the right outline, Miss Hutchinson is bundled up in all these things, topped off by a dress especially designed by Milo Anderson.

She also wears high-heeled shoes. Low-heeled sports shoes would throw the whole effect out of balance.

How to walk was also a problem. She developed a walk halfway between the Victorian habit of the period and the Victorian "sloppy" of the '30's.

She also had to learn how to sit down. When in 1870 did more than find a chair and sit in it. They set of cases into the chair as though it might collapse at any moment.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Acute Bronchitis May Be Severe Enough to Endanger Patient's Life

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IN MY article of yesterday I tried to describe what acute bronchitis is and how it acts under various circumstances. The condition varies from a simple cold in the chest with pain under the breast bone, a tightness and cough, to a very severe condition with high fever, severe pain, and cough, which may mean much danger to life.

I also stated that, if neglected, there was great danger of the development of tuberculosis of the lungs. Almost all cases of tuberculosis begin as a cold in the chest.

Much can be done in the early stages of bronchitis to relieve the condition, and if there is no improvement in a few hours a physician should be consulted. A hot mustard bath will relieve the chest.

until all active symptoms have subsided is by far the best treatment. As soon as the bronchial cold is felt you may use a hot foot bath, drink a glass of hot lemonade, and wrap in a warm blanket to produce a profuse sweat and relieve the congestion.

A mustard plaster applied to the chest will relieve the pain and tightness. This, with a brisk laxative and an abundance of water, will usually be sufficient. If the cough is nagging and persistent, 1/4 grain of codeine every three to six hours will give much relief and enable the patient to obtain the much needed rest.

Cough Medicines Useless

Cough mixtures are of no use at this stage and may upset the stomach. In children a dose of castor oil and a hot mustard bath, with rest in bed, if started early will often relieve the condition at once. Three to five drops of tincture of acacia every hour, or 15-30 drops of sweet spirits of nitre for several doses will reduce the fever and give the patient rest.

Medicated vapors may be very helpful when the cough is hoarse or croupy. Take compound tincture of benzoin to cover the throat with eucalypt and spirits of camphor have been added, about two teaspoons to a quart of water, place over a slow fire and allow to vaporize in the room. This will give much relief.

The application of hot oil of camphor or turpentine and lard, one teaspoonful to a tablespoonful of lard rubbed into the neck and upper chest will relieve the cough. In the later stages when the stimulating expectorants, such as ammonium chloride, three to ten grains in syrup and water will aid in softening the discharge and insuring its expectoration.

During convalescence, iron or arsenic tonics, cod liver oil, fresh air and sunshine will hasten recovery. A trip to the country or the sea shore is advisable in the summer time. After an attack great care should be taken to avoid taking fresh cold, because the bronchial membrane remains very irritable for a long time after an attack.

Dust Does Its Work

Chronic bronchitis is usually a secondary disease, by which we mean that it is often the result of frequent attacks of the acute form. It also follows irritation of dusts occurring in certain occupations, such as mining, metal polishing and grinding, stone cutting, pottery making, cement grinding and mixing and the dust from flour mills and cotton gins.

Any of the inflammatory lung diseases may be followed by a chronic irritation. Chronic heart disease, particularly those with leaking valves or obstructive conditions of the circulation due to arterio-sclerosis cause a chronic congestion of the bronchial tubes. It occurs usually in adults, particularly old people, who start with a winter cough each fall and continue till warm weather. After this has persisted for a while it becomes chronic and they cough the year round.

Disease of the nasal sinuses and chronic throat irritations may lead to chronic bronchitis. Alcoholism, excessive smoking, and general debility are causation factors. The lining membrane of the bronchial tubes are red and swollen, thickened and covered with a white exudate.

The expectation is usually a thick mucous expectoration, often very tenacious and stringy and is raised only after prolonged, severe backing. Dilatation of the heart may result from the extreme effort in coughing and obstruction of circulation in the lungs.

Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Marriage Boon

Profiles For Today

Doublier Real Pioneer Of Filmdom

By TALBOT LAKE

IT IS a fact that one of the few surviving pioneers of the motion picture industry has never been to Hollywood. Francis Doublier, perhaps the first newsreel camera man in the world, is still connected with the industry, but on the technical side, and therefore does not find it necessary to live on the coast. He is manager of the Major Film Laboratories in New York City.

Mr. Doublier, working for the famous Lumiere Brothers, went about Europe taking pictures and then showing them before America even knew there was such a thing as moving pictures. In 1896 he filmed the coronation of Czar Nicholas II at St. Petersburg and was in on many of the important happenings of the day. In 1900, however, he and the Lumiere brothers became convinced there wasn't enough money in news pictures, so they dropped the idea. In 1902 they sent Doublier to America with one of their machines and had him open a factory at Burlington, Vermont, because the water there was suitable for making emulsions. The Frenchman never returned to Paris except for several vacations.

By 1911 Fort Lee, N. J., had become the center of the film world, and when the factory at Burlington was given up Doublier moved there to stay. He is still there, despite the fact that Fort Lee now is a ghost town where movies are concerned. Being identified with the laboratory end of the industry, he was not forced out when production changed its base to California. The laboratory remained active long after the actors had departed. Since that time he has served in many capacities in many laboratories. He is one of the most respected technicians of the industry—the man behind the camera, so to speak.

Mr. Doublier is now fifty-seven and an American citizen. Perhaps his most insistent hobby is color photography, although this comes almost under the head of business. The Lumiere brothers were the first to try color photography, and Doublier only reveals his early association with them in his color experiments.

When asked why he never went to Hollywood the pioneer replies: "There is no reason behind it, except that I never had the feeling to get mixed up in Hollywood."

Earrings Can Readily Lend Zest to Face

By JACQUILINE HUNT

YOUR costume may be tastefully chosen and your make-up applied with the hand of an artist, still some small detail that doesn't quite fit into the picture may detract. Earrings are one accessory that can add charm and dignity when they are selected carefully, but they can also change your appearance in an unflattering way if they are not suitable for your type.

Personality is always an important factor in applying beauty rules. Still, there are rules that you will be wise to observe when buying earrings or other jewelry. If you have an oval face, oval features, and a well-proportioned neck you are one of the fortunate ones who can wear nearly any style earrings so long as your complexion is right.

The girl with a very slender face and sharp or irregular features will find that earrings of a modified button type, not too large, will give softness to her face, but that she must avoid the long drop earrings.

Gifts and women with round faces and thick plump necks should avoid the big button type earrings and wear those that are modified in length.

"The girl with high cheekbones and broad forehead may wear long, dangling earrings for evening with her coiffure arranged with low, soft curls."

Since so many of the new fall coiffures leave the ears fully or partially exposed, and since most ears are made lovelier with some adornment, you should try wearing earrings. Hunting for those that are just right for you will be a task—unless you are one of the prim, rare types who should never so much as look at earrings.

One noted beauty expert never appears in public without earrings and it is said that she has a pair for every costume. They certainly are a part of her personality. Her shiny black hair is drawn smoothly off her face into a knot at the back of her neck and her ears are fully exposed. Sometimes she wears huge bright-colored earrings that look like Christmas tree baubles, and with her tea-gowns she wears clusters of precious stones, or dangling earrings of silver or gold.

A few individuals are so vivacious that their personality dominates all rules of beauty and fashion, but most of you must content yourselves with the few beautiful things that you know will really enhance your type. If you are not sure you should wear earrings, for instance, leave them off.

Large ears, or none too shapely ones, may be made more attractive with soft curls over the upper part, and behind them, leaving only the tips exposed. Or if you cannot wear earrings successfully, ring the ears with or tucking a small flower over one ear, or try one of the jeweled hair ornaments that will increase the decorative value of your ears.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Can you tell me how to apply lipstick so my mouth will not appear larger than it is? My lips are quite colorless, so I feel that I need lipstick, but the result is always unsatisfactory."—Mary.

Have your lips clean and dry when you apply the color. Start with the upper lip, spreading the lipstick from the center out to ward the corner on each side and keeping the color well within the natural line of the lips and inside the line where the lips meet. Try transferring some of the color from the upper to the lower lip by biting them together. Blend the color with a fingertip, then let it "set" a minute or two. Blot the lips on a tissue to remove any excess color and then smooth with a tiny bit of colorless pomade or cream if they tend to be dry.

Perhaps the color of the lipstick you have been using seems to magnify the size of your mouth. A lipstick that is too pinkish or too orange will make your mouth seem larger than it really is.

QUESTION: "How can I make my hair more manageable after shampooing? I like to wash my hair at home, but it is very heavy and for several days after a shampoo it is so fluffy that it stands out all over my head."—Ethel.

Your solution lies partly in a good hair-cut. If your hair is bobbed it is a simple matter for the barber or a good hairdresser to thin it slightly so that it molds your head. Even long hair should have a good thinning out occasionally. Perhaps your hair is also a bit dry. In this case you will find that a hot oil shampoo will give your hair more body and make it more manageable.

The Hooded Coat

Another example of the return of 1917 styles is found in this evening coat worn by Rosalind Russell, of the screen. The coat created in pink and silver lame, has many of the new 1935 features, including the cool hood and high waistline. The large, kimono type sleeves are also important in designs for the coming fall and winter.

Plaid Coats Win Paris For Town Clothes Wear

By IRENE VAIL

New York — Town clothes in Paris are generally associated with dark colors, so when Paris says plaid coats are being worn by the smartly dressed woman in this fashion center it is news that is worthy of repetition. The specific type of plaid coat described as seen at fashionable Paris rendezvous is the coat of two-thirds length with pleated back flounces, the swagger silhouette worn over black or navy dresses.

In several of the leading suit departments in town it is said that the skirt of the town or dress suit is fitted to an average of 11 inches from the ground. It is interesting to reflect the fact that the custom is showing preference for skirts without too much fullness, which puts a single or twin pleat treatment and a slender gored line in the lead as far as skirt silhouette is concerned. The coiled skirt is scarcely belled in line, but practically straight.

There is confidence in the return to the shorter skirt length, even though the average woman has not as yet accepted the trend. The success of the cuff bottom of fur or fabric, for instance, as a style item is regarded as significant in marking a transitional phase.

An exclusive coat department reports the choice of lengths entirely a matter of personal taste with fittings indicating nine inches from the ground as about the longest and thirteen as the shortest. The principle is always followed here that the full-length town coat should be fitted an inch longer than the dress. Where swagger coats are purchased lengths of from four to six inches above the neckline of the dress or suit is recommended.

While suits are always more colorful than dress coats, this year reflects an even wider distribution of colors. Several stores on the Avenue comment, for instance, on the success of the turquoise tone known as Capri. Purple and plum have met with fair interest, the latter more important. Black, brown and green are the leading color groups. For while the demand for color indicates the interest in more of what might be termed the luxury colors, the demand for these tones is not the steady business done in the three leaders. Gray and dark blue are other colors cited as good novelties.

Shoulders in squared versions or with fullness below the shoulder seam tend to widen the top of the silhouette. This impression is true of dresses as well as of coats. If a flare is employed in the skirt, it is done in such a way that the line remains straight and slender.

There is nothing new in colored furs, or in a preference for them dyed to match the wool or velvet they trim. Being in high favor, it is important to list them as among the desired trimming effects—although more than trimming—they sometimes are. When a yoke or sleeve is of fur, it can hardly be called a trimming.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "Is it in order for a week-end guest to sunbathe retiring for the night?"—A. F.

ANSWER: Certainly. "I'm very tired. Will you excuse me if I go to bed now?" is the way you may put it. Then say good-night and go directly to your room. You may find that your hostess also is tired, but was waiting for you to make the first move.

Lunch Dishes Should Never Be Too Heavy

By JUDITH WILSON

IT IS interesting to see what business men and women order when they have lunch downtown at noon. The meals are usually of widely chosen food. The menu will serve as patterns for the homemaker who must prepare luncheon for a hungry group of school children.

A well-cooked vegetable dish supplemented with soup or tomato juice, bread or rolls, a simple dessert and beverage make a meal that is balanced and delicious. Here are a few recipes for those who find the preparation of the luncheon meal a problem.

LUNCHEONS

Pea Soup with Croutons

Stuffed Tomato Salad

Potatoes with Jam

Tea or Milk

Tomato Juice With Toasted Cheese Crackers

Baked Lima Beans

Hot Rolls

Apricot Bavarian Cream

Tea or Coffee

Stuffed Tomato Salad

Wash firm, ripe tomatoes. Cut a slice from the stem end, scoop out some of the center and mix with tiny cucumber dice, season with salt, pepper and mayonnaise. Spoon into the tomato shells and sprinkle with parsley. Anchovies, chopped ham or hard-cooked egg may be added to the stuffing if you have them.

Tomatoes with Macaroni

Make a tomato sauce from 2 tablespoons each butter and flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 2 cups tomato juice. Remove 1/2 cup of the sauce and set aside. To the remaining add 1/2 cup grated cheese and stir until melted. Add 2 cups cooked macaroni and additional seasoning if needed. Scoop the macaroni from 8 medium-sized tomato sprigles inside with salt and pepper. Top with a thick slice of cheese and some of the reserved sauce, which 2 tablespoons cream has been added. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven.

Pear-Cheese Salad

Thoroughly drain 6 halves of pears by placing on clean, absorbent paper. Mash 1 package cream cheese and soften if necessary with 1/2 teaspoon. Completely cover the rounded side of the pears with the cheese, then cover with halves of the big red grapes from which the seeds have been removed. Mix mayonnaise with chopped nuts and serve a spoonful in a lettuce heart on the side of each salad plate. To make your grape clusters seem more realistic, insert a piece of parsley at the large end of the pear stem at the large end of the pear.

Ham Hash

Trim the scraps from the end of a baked or boiled ham, chop and add an equal quantity of cold boiled potatoes, also chopped. If you have a green pepper add that, too. Put into a frying pan, cover with rich milk and let it cook down slowly, stirring often. When the mixture is very thick, add salt and pepper to taste and a small lump of butter. Serve with points of crisp, buttered toast. It's delicious!

Apricot Bavarian Cream

Dissolve 1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin in 1 cup hot water, add 1 cup juice from stewed apricots. Chill until syrupy and fold in 3/4 cup heavy cream that has been whipped until stiff. Crush stewed apricots with a fork and sweeten to taste. Fold into the gelatin mixture and chill until firm in a mold or pile into sherbet glasses. Serves 8.

MODERN WOMAN

The Fine Point of Renewing a Friendship of Younger Years

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

THE best vacations are care free. Even a social schedule becomes irksome. When motoring, the uncertainty of time gives one ample excuse for refusing to be tied down in any sort of engagement. If a couple are booked up ahead of time, it is impelled to keep going, no matter what the circumstances.

So to this couple starting on their belated vacation I say trust a little to fate, "which keeps on happening."

"My dear Mrs. Martin: My husband and I are starting on a motor trip and expect to dine at our hotel, or just about anywhere where we have friends. Now do you think I should write the friends ahead of time, saying we will be in the city, or would that look as though we hoped to be asked to stay with them? And if we don't write how should I get in touch with them? Should we ask them to dine at our hotel, or just about anywhere where we have friends? I do not mean that we know any of these people very well, but we would like to see them. I have one friend who has married since I knew her. In fact, we both have and when we were friends we each had different husbands, which makes it sort of queer. I do want to see her, though. I know her husband does not like her to keep up her friendship with her first husband's friends. Please answer as soon as possible. Ada."

"Do Natural Things"

When one does the thing most natural it is always right. I would suggest that you bear this in mind now and put it to practice.

If you feel like writing your friends ahead of time, make it clear that you are just passing through and have no idea of staying. If you feel like waiting until you are established in your hotel, call them up and let them take on its course. It is quite natural for your friends to want you to see their home. If so, accept any hospitality offered. If it suits your convenience, let them take you to the hotel for a bite—in other words, do the thing which seems easiest and most natural under the circumstances.

The problem of the old friend with a husband who dislikes contacts with friends who knew her when she is a familiar one to me. I have such friends, and they are hard to bear at times.

In your case I should send her a little note telling her to leave her where you will be and leave the rest to her. The chances are she will be only too glad to call on you, and it's also quite likely your husband will hail the opportunity for a bit of a break on his own. In fact, if he is an understanding husband, he is sure to leave you to talk over old times. And if he isn't an understanding husband, he is sure to be bored, anyway, so I don't think you need worry about ways to rid yourself of him during the talk-fest with your friend.

Under the circumstances it would be very tactless for you to arrive at her house, and I think a note would be better than a phone call, since it gives her time to set the stage.

I once called to see a very dear friend whose husband was determined to let the past bury its dead—and all her living and lively friends, too. Fortunately, we were given sufficient time together for her to explain this idiosyncrasy before I was presented to her husband. In this short interval we reconstructed our lives so that, instead of knowing her when she was a young married woman, I knew her in school. It was a bit difficult to get the hang of the thing, but we managed to do it without causing the husband any qualms of uneasiness and without depriving ourselves of some gossip of the old days.

I don't advocate any method in your case. It's not the safest and best way to handle such a delicate stipulation. Write the friend of your anticipated arrival, stating that you hope you will be able to see her at her convenience.

After all, it is not difficult to understand why current wives and husbands dislike listening to tales of their predecessors.

Short Cuts

Venetian blinds are easy to keep clean with a Venetian blind duster. Soft lamb's wool fingers dust six slats with each swish. The duster is washable.

If you wish to give the children a real treat, boil large sweet potatoes for fifteen minutes. Cut into slices about one inch thick. Use the cookie cutter now and make fancy shapes. Place them in a baking dish and sprinkle with sugar and orange juice for about forty minutes. Or until they are soft and candied.

Here is a workroom for writers or other folks who do their chores at home. A color combination of pale yellow, green, and mauve sets off the white furniture and makes the room a cheerful place in which to get things done.

IT'S SIMPLY INEXCUSABLE

You cannot expect to make friends socially or in business if you have halitosis (bad breath). Since you cannot detect it yourself, the one way of making sure you do not offend is to gargle often with Listerine. It instantly destroys odors, improves mouth hygiene and checks infection. CONVENTION OF U.S. SURGEONS ENDS AT S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—UP.—Modern surgery, with its machine-made efficiency, its ray treatments and skillful short-cuts, nevertheless remains the youngest and therefore the most promising of the sciences, two authorities told closing sessions of the American College of Surgeons' 25th clinical conference tonight.

President Robert Gordon Sprout of the University of California, and Dr. Donald C. Hufnagel, Rochester, Minn., newly inaugurated president of the college of surgeons, delivered this message at the annual convocation of the college.

Their addresses marked a solemn meeting in which a proximately 500 were admitted to fellowship in the college.

Rogers Memorial Campaign Will Be Opened Soon

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—UP.—San Francisco and Northern California citizens have indicated they will respond enthusiastically to the opening of the nationwide Will Rogers Memorial campaign scheduled for Monday, according to Herbert Fleischacker, northern California chairman and Joseph S. Thompson, San Francisco chairman.

Expressing his confidence that persons throughout the northern part of the state will cooperate with the movement, Fleischacker announced a civic leader in each city has been appointed chairman of his local campaign.

Fleischacker said there will be no direct solicitation of funds, and no specific amounts will be requested.

Arrangements have been made with banks and trust companies to accept donations, Thompson said.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

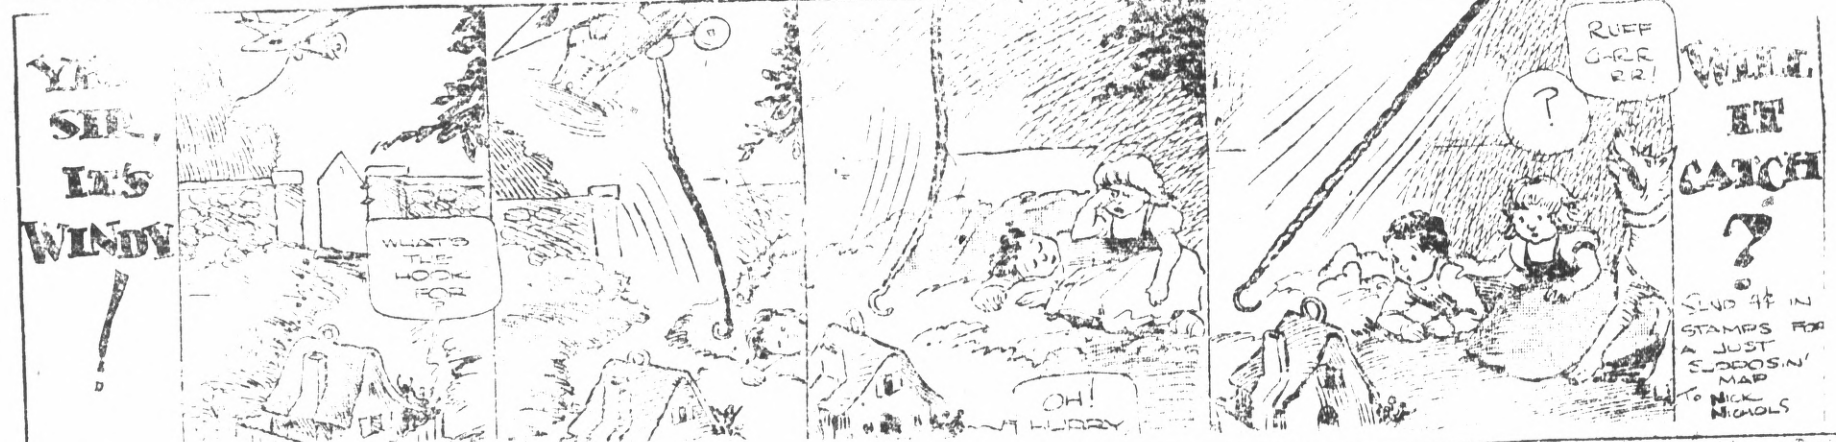

If you feel sour and rinky and the world looks puny, don't swallow a lot of salts, take water, oil, laxatives or anything else that will irritate your bowels and make you feel worse and sicker. You need a gentle laxative that will get you going without any harm.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down and out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

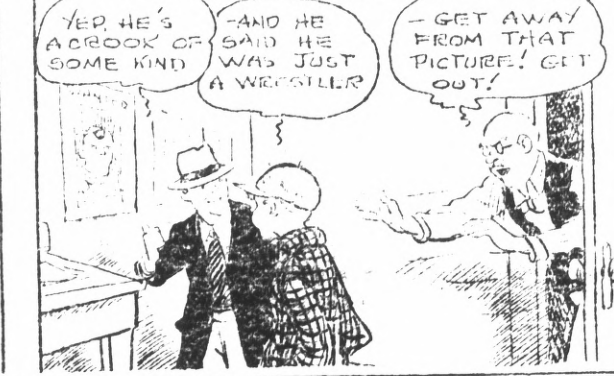

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You feel like you're going to vomit. Your liver and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARPER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the life flow freely.

You don't need liver pills. Ask for Carper's Little Liver Pills on the red label. They're a substitute, 25¢ at drug stores. Q 1531 C. M. Co.

Loyalty Crusade Has Stimulated Church Activity

Sunday will mark the midway point in the Loyalty Crusade, a series of services held in the Wesleyan Methodist church.

"Stewardship Day" will be observed at the morning service at 11 o'clock. In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Hubert F. Benson, on Sunday morning, who will be conducting the 11 o'clock service for the Methodist denomination at San Quentin prison, the Rev. Dr. C. L. Utter, of Berkeley, will be the preacher. Dr. Utter has had a wide experience both in the pastoral and in the evangelistic field, and he will have a challenging message to deliver. He recently took an extended tour of many months, visiting many of the largest churches throughout the United States and making a careful analysis of the work of the churches of the various denominations.

An almost all musical service will mark the "Music Night" service, which will be held at 7:30 P. M. Sunday, when a very fine program of musical features has been arranged, comprising mixed trios, male quartets, chorus selections, with instrumental numbers, and also congregational singing. The pastor will be in charge of this service, and will give a short address on "Music—The Gift of God." All lovers of music should plan to enjoy this service, if not regular worshippers elsewhere.

A fully departmentalized and splendidly staffed church school offers classes for all ages, and meets every Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

The Senior and Intermediate Epworth League meet at 6:50 P. M. and extend a most cordial invitation to the young people of Richmond and vicinity to join with them.

MYSTERY OF TEAR GAS BOMB IS EXPLAINED

MARTINEZ, Nov. 1.—(U.P.)—Martinez, former one-time love of the California Highway Patrol, today revealed that he had been the one who had thrown the tear gas bomb which exploded in the hands of the Italian soldiers on October 12, Martinez was on duty at the time.

Martinez, who was on duty at the time, said he had been ordered to throw the bomb by the Italian soldiers. He said he had been ordered to throw the bomb by the Italian soldiers. He said he had been ordered to throw the bomb by the Italian soldiers.

EXPLAINS POSSESSION

"I was issued three bombs," Martinez said. "I carried them in my pocket. Three of them were unused. After a few days, I kept one in each coat pocket and left the third with my personal belongings in a suitcase in the closet. One night when I was in the closet, I found the bomb. I carried it in my pocket. I carried it in my pocket. I carried it in my pocket."

BROUGHT HOME TO HOME

"I took the suitcase to the job at the Standard. The next morning I came home, but the suitcase was not there. I was in my home for many weeks. I did not think of it again until the report was received at the ranch that a holdup was expected. Other holdings had occurred in that district. I thought of the bomb and the danger of getting to patrons and decided to take the bomb there until the report was over. The bomb was not in the interior of the ranch. It was outside where I could have obtained it quickly in case of necessity."

"The fact that it was not found back was due to circumstances and my taking it to the ranch was due to circumstances also. I have been trained in the use of gas bombs and I have known a lot of them. Every bomb is marked thoroughly for purposes of identification."

"I tried to reach Mr. Healey yesterday to present the facts to him and will do so before him Saturday in his meetings."

The Junior Church, with a membership of 11, and the anti-very kindergarten offer opportunities to parents to attend the morning services, while their children are being cared for and instructed under careful supervision. Children, however, are very welcome to the regular service of the church if they and their parents prefer.

The Loyalty Crusade has given a splendid impetus to every branch of the work of Wesleyan church, and the attendance at all the services and meetings of the church has greatly increased.

Wesley church most cordially welcomes any and all who are not members of other Richmond churches to all the services and other meetings of the church, and especially invites your presence and assistance in the Loyalty Crusade which will continue until the last Sunday in November.

Wage Scale Of WPA IS Protested

P. Healey and County Clerk San Wells, and which pushed will be forwarded to the WPA office in San Francisco, from where it will be examined, it will be forwarded to WPA Albany to be passed by P. Jones in Washington.

REPRESENTATIVE DELEGATION

Numbered among the delegation which presented California costs and demands that WPA workers, now receiving $11 a month be raised to meet the war emergency. The delegation included Mayor W. W. Sawyer and Councilman Otto Lohmeyer and H. H. Tuttle of the Richmond branch of the Oil Workers Union of America; E. A. Lawrence, and J. G. Gillette of the Contra Costa Central Trades and Labor Council; Ernest Daly of Marin County; and representing WPA workers from this section, Messrs. Bird and Keleher of Crocker, from the Warehousemen's Union; Harry Barnes, president of the Martinez Chamber of Commerce; Percy M. Sanford, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce; Otis Lovelidge of Pittsburg; county social service director W. C. Scott, Walnut Creek member and others.

Chairman E. J. Buchanan of the Board of Supervisors, made the introduction and was followed by J. G. Gillette, J. H. Long of Richmond. It was suggested that the delegation should go to the office of the Board of Supervisors in the city of Stockton, in the northern portion of San Joaquin valley. Heavy precipitation was forecast for Sunday Saturday where officials of the University of California at Los Angeles were anticipating the large football crowd in history of the school for their game with California.

RELIEF TO FARMERS

The rain was accompanied by a cold southerly wind, and rising temperatures, giving farmers re-

CROPS DAMAGED

Sub-normal weather was prophesied only for the Sierra Nevada during the storm period, but the bureau announced that the icy blasts were expected to resume following cessation of rain.

Truck crops were reported harmed in the Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys as a result of recent unsettled weather conditions. Approximately $50,000 damage was estimated in Stanislaus county, and extensive injury to Salinas-Watsonville lettuce was feared.
